ABOUT CAMP TUSCAZOAR

Camp Tuscazoar was founded more than a century ago by Scout leaders who recognized that the beauty and history of the land offered a valuable place for boys to learn, grow and become young men. Today, Camp Tuscazoar is open to the public and continues to serve scouts, other youth organizations and the general public under the guidance of the Camp Tuscazoar Foundation, an Ohio non-profit corporation. Large numbers of weekend campers, hikers, mountain bikers and horse riders visit throughout the year.

With over 850 acres of forested hills and valleys along the banks of the Tuscarawas River, rich with Indian lore and local history, Camp Tuscazoar is Ohio's most historic camp. In rustic cabins and wilderness campsites people can spend weekends surrounded by nature, endure the elements, explore the heritage of the pioneers who settled the lands and blazed trails, and discover the Indian wisdom of ages past.

The Camp Tuscazoar Foundation operates under the guidance of a 16 member Board of Directors elected by the Foundation membership. Those individuals generously donate their time to help keep the spirit burning at Camp Tuscazoar. We operate on donations, grants, memberships, fundraisers and camping fees, so donations are paramount to keep the spirit burning at Camp Tuscazoar.
